

ARREST WOMEN WHO LEFT SIX BOMBS OFFICE

(By Associated Press)
LISBON, Feb. 16.—Two women who left a handbag containing six dynamite bombs in the office of the royalist newspaper Monarchia just before that office was raided by the police the other day have been arrested. Their apprehension tends to clear up a mystery connected with the case.

It is learned that the police raid was made because they had discovered the delivery of the bombs but the editor of the newspaper asserts that the women who brought the bombs to the office in his absence are absolutely unknown to him. He stated that the whole affair was a ploy to compromise the faction of royalists represented by the Monarchia, and denied that the party was preparing for any armed conspiracy at this moment, as such an act, he said, "would only delay the end of the present regime."

The police have discovered that one of the women who carried the bombs to the office of the Monarchia did so at the request of her husband, a man who was in prison for implication in some past royalist uprisings and who died last week while still a prisoner. Just before his death, his wife said, he told her to take a handbag which had been for a long time in their home in the newspaper office and give it to one of the editors, Lieutenant Luis Chaves. She declares that she obeyed her husband's request without any knowledge of the bag's contents.

The police followed her to the newspaper office, found the bombs, seized and sealed the office and made several arrests. Lieutenant Chaves could not be found.

The hundreds of royalists who are loyal to the former King Manuel and who have been in prison for more than two years since the last royalist uprising, are in despair over the affair, which they believe will postpone indefinitely the amnesty to political prisoners which they have long been promised. For several nights following the raid on the Monarchia, sanguinary conflicts took place in some of the principal Lisbon cafes between bands of armed defenders of the Portuguese republic and people suspected of being members of the Integralista faction of royalists. This faction does not recognize former King Manuel as its head but supports Dom Nuno Duarte, a boy of 12 years.

"FIRST LADY" 8 YEARS OLD

(By Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 16.—Eight-year-old Angella Morrison, daughter of Governor Cameron Morrison, of North Carolina, is believed to hold the distinction of being the youngest "first lady" of any state in the union. Mr. Morrison is a widower, his wife having died early last year.

When Governor Morrison was inaugurated a few weeks ago, little Angella was accorded a great ovation when she entered the city auditorium, where Mr. Morrison took the oath of office, walking between and holding the arms of her father and the retiring governor, Thomas Walter Bickett.

After Governor Morrison had taken the oath of office, Angella accompanied him to the executive offices in the capital and thence to the governor's mansion.

BICYCLE INVENTOR DIES IN ENGLAND

(By Associated Press)
TUNBRIDGE Wells, England, Feb. 16.—Reputed to have made and ridden the first bicycle ever used in England, the Rev. J. Pearce has just died at the age of 81 at Pembury, a village near here.

While working as a coachbuilder in Oxfordshire, he is said to have constructed a two-wheeled machine on which he rode through the main streets of the village. A party of fox hunters were so interested in witnessing the spectacle that they abandoned the chase and allowed the fox to escape.

LYNCH, KY., IS ALADDIN TOWN

(By Associated Press)
LYNCH, Ky., Feb. 16.—This city is less than four years old and has a population of approximately 7000 persons, concrete streets and roads, a department store that compares favorably with those of much larger cities, a $300,000 hotel, a $1,000,000 bank, the largest coal tipple in the world, an 85-bed hospital and a church of every denomination represented in eastern Kentucky. In the opinion of R. B. Clayton, secretary of the Harlan County Coal Operators' association, it will be the model mining camp of the country within two more years.

Sitting at the head of the valley of the Poor fork of the Cumberland river, 40 miles above the point where it joins the Slover fork at Harlan to form the main stream, the town
